

Dynamics Of Smoking

- Study that examined the person-to-person spread of smoking the US between 1971 and 2003
- simulate single individuals who change their smoking habit under the influence of their social environment (similar to “Conway’s Game of Life”)
- Investigate how the model behaves and investigate fix points and stability
- Swiss data as starting condition

